homecoming highlights

High School is the culmination of many years of hard work, laughter, studying, not studying, pranks, tears, friends, and memories.

For most, graduation is a sign of maturity—the beginning of adulthood. And for those who are nearing the close of their school days will see that they, too, will someday be at childhood's end.

TOP RIGHT—Clarissa Tajchman visits her locker between classes in the middle of the mad locker rush.
CENTER—Mr. Homes' room of several rooms to be remodeled last summer, is cluttered with signs of progress.
BOTTOM LEFT—Junior Kevin Banner focuses his concentration on a book he's reading.

it's back to the books

It was back to the books again for students and teachers in August. After a summer of swimming, baseball, boredom, suntans, and no rain, students returned to school for homework, studying, sports, and seeing friends.

Students see many changes as they return

Students saw many changes at school this year. Several rooms were remodeled and several new courses were offered. Students showed more pride in what they were doing, and the entire school took on a new look. Some students thought they were at the wrong school.

School changes yearly, and it will continue to change in years to come. Faces change and so do people, but our pride will live on forever.

ABOVE—Raise your hands if you're sure you have pride.

RIGHT—I can't wait for ballet class.

Bearcats Show Pride in Many Ways

MIDDLE RIGHT—Allen Hallmark looks really excited about the whole thing.

LEFT—Mrs. Connell and family bundled up and braved the cold to watch the Bearcats play.

LOWER RIGHT—Timothy "Spike" Jamar looks a little surprised.

Senior Class May Be Small, but It's Got Heart

The Senior Class of 1985 somehow survived this year. Slapped in the face with many new changes, the seniors trudged bravely on. House Bill 72 didn't affect their graduation requirements, but many seniors who had expected a "typical" senior year were in for a big surprise. Even Senior hall-roamin', an art taken to new heights last year, never materialized this year. Yet through it all, the seniors managed to make it to that big day in May they've all been working toward for twelve years.

Homecoming Queen Nominees Are Winners, Too

Everyone knows only one girl can be homecoming queen each year. Which obviously means there will be four girls who didn't win.

This can cause some tense moments. Yet after all of the activities are over, all the girls will be the best of friends again.

Competition of this sort does unusual things to your average girl. She might bubble over from the excitement of the honor or drive everyone crazy from her nervousness. But no matter how it affects her, one thing is certain. That night is one night she won't forget for a long time.

Bearcats Aren't Anyone's "Doormat" Anymore

Most people think Hawley had another typical "Hawley" season this year in football. True, the Bearcats only won two ballgames this time out, but they accomplished a couple of very important things.

Hawley built a strong foundation for a good, clean, hard-hitting football team. This is the first in many years where the Bearcats were considered the good guys, instead of the cellar-dwellers again.

The Bearcats made it a hard, cold fact in their minds, and to other teams, that the Maroon and White were not through until they had played forty-eight full minutes. This year's motto seemed to be, "Hit'em, pick'em up, hit'em again until the final gun sounds."

The season started off with a bang with Hawley beating Merkel, 15-6. But the Bearcats just could not keep it together in the next three losses.

Things looked bright at homecoming with a 16-9 win over the Early Longhorns, making this two homecoming wins in a row.

But the Bearcats never seemed to click in the last five games, scoring a total of fourteen points against their district opponents.

Junior Varsity Ends Season with 3-2 District Record

The Junior Varsity football season was a standing point for future JV seasons. The coaches gave their support and worked to put together a great team. The pride in the team showed that the boys were determined to work.

The support for the JV team was outstanding. The fans really backed the guys up and cheered them on.

There was a greater unity between the JV and Varsity team, which pushed the JV to strive for a better football season. This year was a 180 degree turn around for the football players, and next season promises to have a more successful team.

Bearcats Have Good Season; Go to Play-offs

The Hawley Bearcat basketball team had an outstanding 1984-85 season. The year started very slowly with more losses than wins, but this changed when district started. They were 8-2 in district losing only to Haskell.

This earned Hawley a second-place finish and a spot in the play-offs for the first time since 1977.

With the Bearcats lack of height and limited number of players, most people were expecting a tough year so the play-offs were a pleasant surprise to Hawley fans this year.

The Bearcats played Morton in a bi-district play-off at Snyder. The 'Cats played well, but lost 86-54.

Coach Rex Spain has been a great influence on the playing of the Bearcats this year.

JV Boys Bound for Victory on the Courts

Sweat, hours of practice, team work, and determination aided the JV Boys in attaining a 7-3 district record in basketball this year.
Led by Coach Doyle, the JV squad showed that it takes more than height to make a successful team. It requires skill, practice, and the "want" to win. These guys wanted to win and it showed on the courts.
The Junior Varsity ended the year with an 11-11 record.

RIGHT—"Stretch, two, three, four . . . bend, two, three, four . . . okay girls, work those hips!"

Lady Bearcats Are Hot on the Trail

The Lady Bearcats have had an exciting year. They have had many victories, as well as defeats. Many people had low expectations for this team, because of having only one senior. The Bearcats have proven that, even though they are a young team, they still have the will and courage to win.

Celebrities

ce·leb·ri·ty (sə-lĕb′rə-tē) n., pl. -ties. 1. A famous person. 2. Notoriety or renown; fame. [Latin celebritās, from celeber, numerous. See kel-[5] in Appendix.*]

Celebrity. It might mean someone famous like a movie star or an Olympic athlete. To some people it might be a famous scientist or a genius like Einstein. Famous criminals like Bonnie and Clyde are considered to be celebrities by some. Still others feel that people like Howard Hughes or Miss America are celebrities.

No matter what anyone feels a celebrity is, all celebrities share one thing in common—fame. They all must achieve some amount of recognition.

Some may be wondering, "What does all of this have to do with Hawley High School?" Yes, Hawley has its own celebrities, too. Hawley Celebrities are young men and women who are the epitome of their age groups, people who have received special recognition by their peers and teachers, students who are at the pinnacle of their classes.

Student Council Shows Leadership in Many Different Projects

Student Council

Student Council members stayed busy throughout the year by being of service to many different groups.

Headed by Mrs. Jan Lawrence, members helped the needy during the holidays.

Members held monthly meetings during lunch so they could carry on business while they ate due to the new rule of no meetings during class.

FHA Likes to Keep Things Cookin' at School

FHA members kept busy this year with fund-raising, meetings, and trips. Fund-raising helps pay for trips to area meetings and other projects. Members who sold a certain amount could win various prizes. Top salesman was Trey Keaton. The FHA also sold carnations for Valentines' Day for an in school project. The top six salesmen gained the chance to go to the state meeting in Houston in April. School board members were treated to a dinner in their honor by FHA students. This gave the students a chance to show off their culinary skills.

FHA Officers were Stacey Worthington, 1st Vice-President; Arlene Faulks, 2nd Vice-President; Gloria Poe, Secretary/Treasurer; Dena Watts, Historian; and Delores Sawyer, President.

Ag Students Corral Energies Into Activities and Projects.

Vocational Agricultural Education is designed to provide the knowledge and skills needed by high school students who have entered upon or are preparing to become established in the community and prepare them for employment in occupations requiring knowledge and skills in agriculture. We don't stop feeding, breeding, and handling livestock when school lets out in May.

Vocational Agriculture involves leadership and livestock judging contest for betterment of student's knowlege, which in turn developes a responsible citizen of the community.

Ag. Mechanics class consists of Juniors & Seniors.

Hawley FFA is the by-product of Vocational Agriculture. Students put on livestock shows, as well as attend them. Money is raised for such items by selling Corn Gold Sausage and fruit. In doing this they encounter people developing Public Relations.

Latin Club Asks "Et tu, Mrs. Jay?"

Latin Club members participate in state contest each year where they demonstrate their proficiency in grammar, vocabulary, derivitives, mythology, Roman history, and reading comprehension.

Last year, students from Hawley competed with approximately 2,500 students at the state contest.

This year's participation was up in the air due to the club sponsor's health at the time of the last yearbook deadline, but we're confident these students are prepared just in case.

The German Club consists of present and past German class members. In class, they study German current events, the German language, and the culture of Germany.

Out of class, they sold Hawley Bearcat shoestrings to buy German newspapers and to pay for trips. This year the German club went to an Octoberfest in Rowena, a small German-oriented town. While there, the students joined in festivities, food, and games of the German people and culture.

Recipes Are a Matter of "Taste" for Students

One stick of butter, two cups of salt, three cups of cheese, a little milk, some more milk and some cherries are the key ingredients needed to make popcorn. That is, according to Jeanette Richardson, a second grader in Mrs. Lucy Robinson's class.

Mrs. Robinson's class discussed how to follow and write recipes. Students were then asked to write their own recipes. The results were very enlightening to the average cook.

John Nichols told how to make a sandwich. "First add mayonaise. Then add bologna," he said.

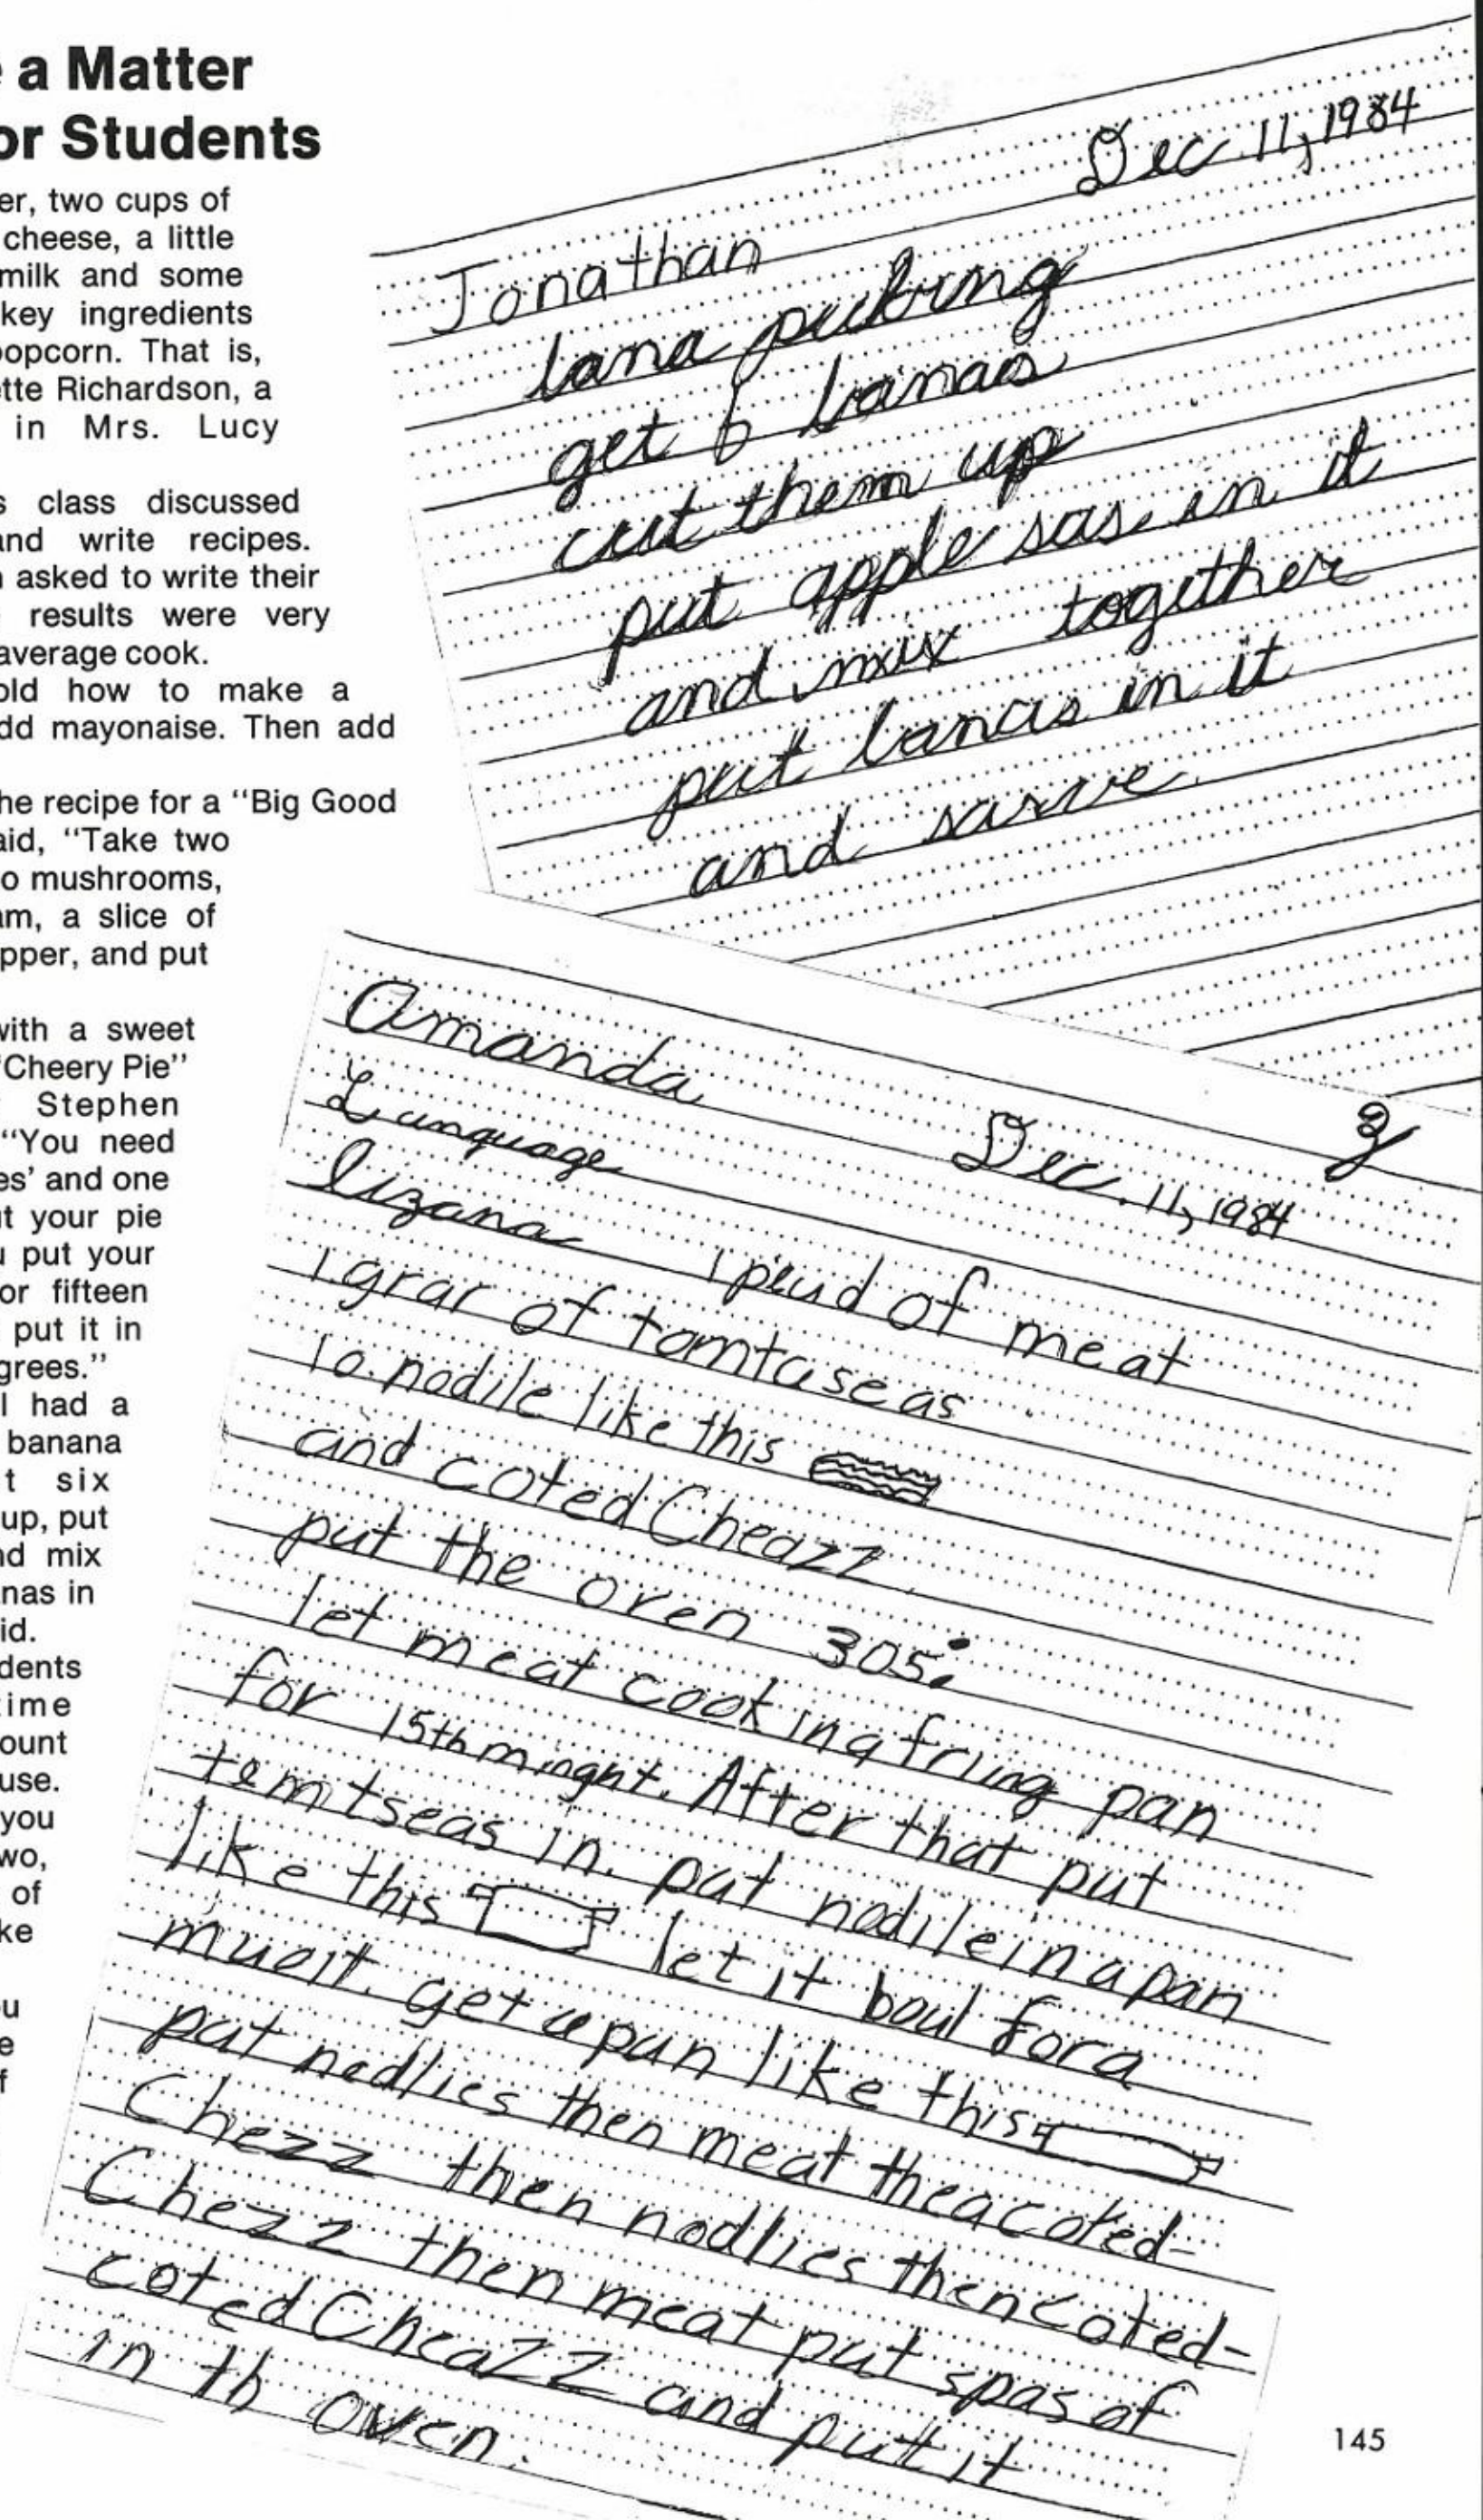
Angie Ham had the recipe for a "Big Good Sandwich." She said, "Take two pieces of bread, two mushrooms, three pieces of ham, a slice of lettuce, salt and pepper, and put them together."

And for those with a sweet tooth, a recipe for "Cheery Pie" was written by Stephen Barbee. He said, "You need two cans of 'cheeries' and one pie crust. Then put your pie crust on. Then you put your pie in the oven for fifteen minutes. Then you put it in the oven on 350 degrees."

Jonathan Carroll had a simple recipe for banana pudding. "Get six bananas, cut them up, put apple sauce in and mix together. Put bananas in it and serve," he said.

Some of the students had a hard time deciding what amount of ingredients to use. Edie Sapp felt you would need one, two, three, or four cups of popcorn to make buttered popcorn.

Some day, you might turn on the TV and see one of these second graders as the next "Galloping Gourmet."



Six Graders Finally Make It to the Top . . . Until Next Year.

Some hope it will never come and others can't wait till it does, but eventually that last bell of the school year rings. For most it means three months of freedom until school starts again in the fall. But for thirty graduating seniors it signals the end of childhood and the start of their adult life. Many new and exciting adventures lie ahead for them at college or in their jobs. But one thing they have now that they'll always have is their memories of their years at Hawley High.

Bye!
